

The Taylor Mansion Alcohol Policy

- The Taylor Mansion does not carry a liquor license; therefore, all alcohol must be provided by the client and served by a bartender.
- The bartender must be TABC certified and have basic liability insurance of one million dollars. Bartenders must show proof of TABC certification and insurance.
- No alcohol can be self-served at any time.
- One bartender is required for every 100 guests for full bars and one bartender for every 120 guests for beer and wine bars.
- Bartender reserves the right to stop service to any guests that they determine to be intoxicated.
- Bartenders will not serve alcohol to minors even with parental consent.
- The bartender must stop serving alcohol at least 15 minutes before the event end time.
- The Taylor Mansion is not liable for any alcohol-related damage to persons on or off the property.
